GENERAL GUIDELINES FOR PROPOSALS

- Submit all proposals online through the BehaviorLive website at <https://behaviorlive.com/njaba/call-for-papers>.
- We recommend creating a text file with all of the required information that can be copied and pasted into the submission fields.
- The text included in your submission will be used in the conference program as written. Please take care in the preparation of your proposal.
- Symposium and poster proposals must minimally include preliminary data submitted as an upload file (all formats accepted).
- A minimum of one presenter/author must have a Ph.D. or Master's degree in applied behavior analysis or a closely related field. Additional credentials are required to provide BACB CEs (see CUE guidelines).
- Presentations are 50 or 75 minutes in duration. Efforts will be made to provide presenters with their desired time slot, although no guarantees can be made.
- By submitting a proposal, authors are attesting that they are available to present their work in-person at the NJABA Conference on March 3, 2023.
- Conference registration is required of all presenters. All costs associated with attendance are the responsibility of the presenters.
- Due to spacing limitations, we are typically not able to accept all proposals for inclusion in the conference. Proposals will be reviewed to ensure that they are behavior analytic in nature, to evaluate the quality of the proposed event, and to ensure a diverse range of topics and presenters are included in the conference.
- To encourage a range of viewpoints, please submit no more than 3 presentations from a single organization. This limit does not include poster presentations.
- Submit any questions about the submission process to info@njaba.org

PRESENTATION TYPES

Symposia: A series of 2-4 presentations of empirical research on a related topic with an identified chair. Symposia proposals may be submitted with or without a discussant.

Panels: Open discussions of a behavior analytic topic or issue by professionals in the field. They may take the form of debates, brief presentations, and/or questions and answers.

Workshops: Instructional sessions related to a single topic. Workshops may cover the application of behavior analysis to various populations and behaviors or be related to the practice of behavior analysis.

Posters: Poster presentations are visual reports of empirical research that are similar to a compressed research paper written in APA style. Posters should be able to stand alone without explanation, but at least one presenter must be present in-person at the conference to discuss the poster during the assigned session.

CONTINUING EDUCATION REQUIREMENTS

For proposals to be considered for BACB continuing education credits and as required by the BACB, the following requirements must be met:

1. The identified CE Instructor must meet one of the following qualifications:
 - Hold active BCBA or BCBA-D certification
 - Have a doctorate and substantial, formal training in behavior analysis
 - Be a current graduate student who has completed a master's degree and is enrolled in a behavior-analytic doctoral program.
2. The CE Instructor must have expertise in the subject matter being presented and agree to follow the Ethics Code for Behavior Analysts.
3. Ensure that the event content meets the following BACB CE requirements:
 - "All content is behavior analytic in nature, and addresses the practice, science, methodology, theory, or the profession itself
 - All content is designed for certified individuals and extends beyond the content areas on the task list or relates directly to the profession of behavior analysis
 - All content is accurate, up to date, and consistent with best practices"
4. To be considered for CEUs the following information must be included:
 - Confirmation that the presentation meets the BACB CE criteria
 - Determination of whether the event is eligible for ethics or supervision CEs (if neither are selected, general CEs will be provided)
 - A designated CE instructor based on the qualifications stated above.
 - Upload Curriculum Vitae (CV) for the CE Instructor
 - Three learning objectives written in the following format: "Participants will (1) _____; (2) _____; (3)_____". Learning objectives should specify what the learner will know or be able to do after attending the presentation, not what the presenter will do.
